(b) As per a policy decision taken by the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet on 28.5.1999, it would not be advisable to appoint an officer at the same level in the same Department where he might have worked during an earlier tenure at the Centre.

(c) and (d) Appointments to the posts of Under Secretary and above in the Government of India are made under the provisions of the Central Staffing Scheme by borrowing officers from All India Services and other participating Group "A" services on tenure deputation basis and on the expiry of the tenure, they return to their respective parent Cadres/services. This two-way movement is of mutual benefit to the respective parent cadres as well as the Govt, of India as the officer who serves in the Central Government is expected to get a variety of experience in policy formulation etc., which will stand him in goodstead in his subsequent postings. If an officer who had earlier worked in a Central Government Department is again appointed at the same level in the same Department, he will not gain any experience in other areas of Governmental functioning at the Centre which is neither in the interest of the officer nor in the interest of the Department concerned.

(e) As on date, there is no proposal for reviewing the extant guidelines in the matter.
